If I had the room in the garden, I would make me all of these! They are all so fantastic. Seems the latest craze is re-purposing metal things into fire pits. Not only do these look good in the garden, they could actually be used to cook on and keep you warm, if the power went out.

These 10 designs are really easy to make and even better is you upcycle things you would just throw away. Click the link below to see a list of some of the most innovative ones we could find.

10 DIY Upcycled Fire Pits

(Picture Credit: Trash Backwards)