

100 Things You Never Need To Buy

Categories : DIY

Times are hard, and for many of us money is tight; for many others it is almost non-existent, or worse, people are heavily in debt with loan and credit card repayments crippling their income... The thing is, how many of us still don't practice the three Rs: reduce, reuse and recycle? With a bit of effort and creativity you can save a lot of money. In addition the the three Rs, you can save a lot of money by making some of your own products, you'd be amazed at what you can make and do with some baking soda and vinegar! With these two products, you can cut all other cleaning products from your weekly shopping list...

Actually, number 100 on the list - stop buying commercial dishwasher rinse aid and use white distilled vinegar instead. It does just the same job and it's better for your pocket and the environment. Check out the other 99 things you don't need to purchase, I all but guarantee it will save you some money, maybe even a lot of money!
