Most people have bleach at home, if you haven't got any, given its low cost and versatility, I highly recommend you get some. Bleach will become even more vital in emergency SHTF scenarios such as natural disasters or a total economic collapse etc, as not only can bleach be used to purify water to make it safe to drink, bleach can also be used to make a very effective antiseptic wound disinfectant.

The post below lists 12 smart day to day household uses for bleach, but I would like to also recommend two of our previous posts: How To Make An Antiseptic Solution From Bleach and How To Disinfect Water With Household Bleach To Make It Safe For Drinking
