

25 Things You Should Do To Get Prepared For Economic Collapse

Categories : General Prepping

The economy is all over the place, and it's not just in the US, there are global economic problems and recessions, and there is not a country which isn't already affected in some way... Many are predicting a full on economic collapse in the near future. This would result in no food on the shelves, all transport would grind to a halt, and your money would likely be worthless.

You don't have to be a full-on, die-hard prepper to take some precautions for an economic collapse, there are many simple and sensible things you can do, to try and protect and look after your family, should an economic collapse be realized. Taking some simple steps to prepare yourselves, doesn't make you one of those nut-job preppers you see on Doomsday Preppers, it just makes you a sensible and responsible person.
