Tea tree oil as the name suggests is oil harvested from the tea tree which is native to Australia. Tea tree oil is truly amazing as it naturally has antiseptic, antifungal and antibiotic properties. These healing properties make tea tree oil a natural remedy for pretty much all skin complaints; from rashes, skin infections, burns and even dandruff!

If you prefer using natural remedies rather than pharmaceutical concoctions, I highly recommend you read up on the first aid uses for tea tree oil and get a bottle for your first aid kit or medicine cabinet. A bottle lasts for ages, as a little goes a long way. It is also usually diluted before being applied to the skin. See the link below for the list of 25 uses for tea tree oil.

25 Uses For Tea Tree Oil

(Image from: Keeper Of The Home)