I love camping, it is especially magical with young children, but camping seems to divide people, some love it, others hate it. The thing is I think that most of the people who hate camping probably had a bad camping experience which likely stemmed from poor planning/preparation.

With the right gear, a bit of location research and some preparation, camping can be an amazing experience. For all the camping haters, I urge you to give camping another go this summer, especially if you have kids, as kids will remember camping trips forever. Anyway for anyone planning on camping in the near-future, check out the link below for 41 camping hacks and tips to try.
