7 AWESOME Mead Recipes

Categories: DIY, Recipes

Last year we did a post: How To Make Mead (Honey wine), where I shared a festive mead recipe I make every year that we enjoy at Christmas. It was a very popular post, as are all the alcohol related posts for some reason...

Here we have 7 mead recipes, together with basic instructions on how to make them. The one thing I would say is this - mead gets infinitely better with age. It can be drunk after a month or two, but if you can resist and let it sit for 5/6 months, you'll be so, so glad you did. You'll have a delicious mead that will rival any expensive white wine. It will also have a good bit more alcohol than the wine too!
