Canning Homemade Dog Food DIY Recipe

Categories: Cooking, General Prepping, Homesteading, Self-Sufficiency

If you do your own canning and have dogs either for working or as pets you should try and can your own dog food. Dogs will still need to eat if an emergency happens. Plus if you make your own, you know what is in the food.

Canning will preserve the dog food for years and will taste as fresh as the day you made it. See the full article below
