Cedar: Quick and Easy Survival Cordage (And a Tree Bark Education)

Categories: Self-Sufficiency, Wilderness Survival

In a survival scenario, cordage is GOLDEN. It's uses are endless for example; fishing line, snare lines, shelter building, carrying gear and supplies and many, many more.

This cordage is easily made and very strong. This is a valuable skill to learn, as you may not have any paracord or rope on you to get you out of a sticky wicket. See how to make this below.
