Collecting Rainwater From Your House Now Illegal...

Find out about the bans and restrictions in your state, and what your options are for collecting & storing rainwater.

This may or may not come as a shock to you, but do you know that if you are collecting and storing rainwater, you could be breaking the law? As crazy as it sounds, many states in the US have restrictions and even bans on collecting rainwater at home. Personally I didn't realize the US government had rights or ownership on the rain...

If this is news to you, or you just want to find out more about the laws in your state, the link below has an excellent podcast with an attorney who specializes in US rainwater harvesting laws. If you are collecting rainwater from your land, the podcast is well worth a listen.
