

Find Out Why You Attract Mosquitoes More Than Others

Categories : Health/Fitness

Do you wake up in the morning, covered in mosquito bites, yet your partner has been left unscathed? Do you sit out in the evening, getting besieged by buzzing mosquitoes, whilst others are left untroubled? If the answer to either of these questions is yes, you might be interested to know that scientists have found seven specific reasons why mosquitoes are attracted to, and bother and bite one person, but leave others next them untroubled.

It's been a particularly bad year for mosquitoes, and we've also seen our first Asian Tiger mosquito... If you use the K.W.N search facility and search: mosquitoes, you'll find lots of posts that we have done about repelling mosquitoes and other biting insects, but first, find out why they are attracted to some people more than others.
