Pioneering is the art of making useful items and structures with rope/natural cordage and wood/branches etc. Pioneering is very popular with the Scout movement as you can make small simple camp gadgets like those in the image above, and you can make huge structures like bridges and towers, which promote excellent team building.

The free pioneering book below has 76 pages full of pioneering projects, both big and small, there is everything from coat hangers through to huge draw bridges.
