

Free And Virtually Unlimited Fuel To Heat Your Home

Categories : DIY, General

FREE fuel and unlimited fuel to heat your home - that's quite a promise! It doesn't actually promise to be a solution to provide ALL of the fuel to heat your home, but depending on the size of your home it probably could do just that... If you have a small house or cabin heated by a wood stove you could probably heat your house using just this method. For larger homes with a wood fire or stove this would be an excellent addition to fire wood which could possibly save you 50%, maybe more on your fuel costs.

You are obviously not going to be able to generate enough junk mail, cardboard and magazines etc to save a fortune (although still worth doing!), but if you ask friends, neighbors and family to save all their paper waste you'll start to generate a significant amount of fuel material. You could also ask around local businesses for their waste paper too!
