How To Bake Bread On The Stovetop

Not only does this method of baking bread allow you to do it without the use of a traditional oven, it also only requires fifteen minutes of cooking on the stove... After 15 minutes the pan is removed from the heat and wrapped in some insulating material. This allows the bread to continue slow cooking without further heat/fuel/cost.

As well as being able to cook this bread on a stove, I can't see why it also couldn't be done on a campfire in an emergency situation, if you are without power. Check out the tutorial below.

How To Bake Bread On The Stovetop

(Image from: Wikihow)