How To Build A Dirt Cheap House

Categories : DIY, General

If you have always dreamt of building your own house or bug-out house/retreat, but you have been put off by the high build costs etc, this could be right up your street...

The post below explains that by using, and knowing how to build with, locally available natural materials such as earth, small diameter wood and straw, you can keep expenses to an absolute minimum. In fact build costs can be as low as $10/sq. ft. With build costs this low, it opens the doors to the possibility of many more of us being able to build our own houses.

How To Build A Dirt Cheap House

(Photo from: Owen Geiger via Instructables)