

How To Build An Earth Oven For Nothing

Categories : DIY, General, Homesteading

We have featured tutorials on DIY clay ovens and pizza ovens before (use the K.W.N search facility and search - oven). The difference with this tutorial is that the oven is made largely for free, using natural materials such as clay, straw and earth. The only real cost is for the bricks for the base, but even these could be scavenged for free, there are always old bricks to be had for free if you know where to look.

Not only would building an oven link this give you and awesome outdoor/pizza oven, the process of building it is one that could involve the whole family, kids would love mixing the clay, straw and earth, and then making the little cob bricks. Check it out below.
