How To Make Potato Bread (Recipe)

Categories: Cooking, Food & Water, General Prepping, Homesteading

Potato bread can be made using fresh mashed potatoes, or powdered/dehydrated potatoes. Making potato bread is a great way of using up left over potatoes. We are often left with a small bowl of left over mash potato, which often sits in the refrigerator for a few days before getting wasted...

You can't make potato bread solely from potatoes, there has to be a mix of flour and potatoes, but adding potato to your bread mix is a great way of making emergency food stores of flour last longer, especially if you grow your own potatoes. Check out the link below for the potato bread recipe and tutorial.

How To Make Potato Bread (Recipe)

(Photo from: Common Sense Homesteading)