How To Make Your Own Pepper Spray

Pepper Spray is one of the most effective forms of non lethal self-defense. When you spray someone in the face, it irritates the eyes and causes tears, pain, and even temporary blindness, which allows you to make your escape.

There is a whole range of commercial peppers sprays available, which are quite affordable (under $10) and some are very discreet and easy to carry and conceal. However, if you have an abundance of hot chilli peppers lying around, or you'd just like to have a go at making your own pepper spray, check out the article below, which covers selecting chilli peppers and a delivery system, and provides step by step instructions to putting it all together.
