How To Open A Can With No Can Opener Or Tools

Categories: DIY, General, General Prepping, Urban Survival, Wilderness Survival

Earlier in the year we did the post: How To Open A Can With No Tools (Without wasting any food), but as many folks pointed out, the guy in the video used a knife to ease lid open a bit. To my mind it still proved it could be done without a knife, the knife just made it a little easier...

Well for all those who didn’t see the original video AND for those who complained about the knife - check out the video above to see how to open a food can without a can opener or any tools what so ever. Check out the awesome prepper cat in the video!
