List Of 100+ Heirloom, Non-GMO & Organic Seed Companies

Categories: General Prepping, Growing your Own, Homesteading, Self-Sufficiency

We all (should) know the benefits and advantages to using heirloom, non-GMO and organic seeds. Simply put, they are as nature intended and when you work with nature, rather than against it, you get the best long term results...

There are currently 100+ heirloom, non-GMO and organic seed companies listed now, mainly across the US, Canada, UK/Ireland and Australia. There are a few others elsewhere, but these are the main locations.

What I particularly like about this list, is that it is largely made up of small independent seed suppliers, rather than the huge seed/gardening companies. Personally I would much rather spend my money at a small, family run, ethical business, rather than a huge faceless international corporation. Check out the list and bookmark a few suppliers for next year's seeds.
