Make Homemade Hershey’s Chocolate Syrup From Scratch

Everyone loves chocolate syrup, but whilst years back Hershey's chocolate syrup used to contain mostly chocolate and it was affordable, now it mostly contains high fructose corn syrup and a whole range of unnatural sounding chemicals, and costs a small fortune... You could spend $5 on a bottle of Hershey's chocolate syrup, or you could spend half that on making your own 100% natural version where you control the ingredients.

Down below is a link to a post on the'Baby Savers' website, where they share their copycat Hershey chocolate syrup recipe. As I am finding with a lot of things lately - a little making is much better for your health and your wallet! Get the recipe below.
