Growing your own vegetables is one of the most rewarding hobbies you can have, in fact nowadays in these uncertain times, many folks are turning to growing as many of their own vegetables as possible... Personally I think everyone should have a go at growing something. It doesn't matter how little space you have as many vegetables can be grown in pots and tubs; there are also plenty of vegetables and herbs which can be grown in indoors on windowsills etc.

Below is a month by month guide to managing your vegetable garden which explains what you should be doing/planting each month. It's a basic guide and some of the timings will vary depending on your location and climate, but it is a good general guide.
