Poison Ivy Treatment: Here's What to Do

You get this from touching it, or touching something that has touched it, like your clothes or your dog. You normally get it from touching the leaves, but yanking the vine out by the roots - even in winter - will give you a wicked rash.

If you find yourself in an emergency or you are miles and miles away from medical help, there are a few things you can do to aid/soothe the poison ivy rash, click the link below to see the full article.

Poison Ivy Treatment: Here's What to Do

(Picture Credit: MR.ADAM.ROSENBERG)