Tips For Freezing, Pickling, Making Sauces And More With Your Summer Produce

Categories: Growing your Own, Homesteading, Self-Sufficiency, Urban Survival

Now is the time to preserve some of the season's gems like tomatoes, peaches, corn, and peppers. Preserving isn't just about canning, though. There are lots of ways to preserve your fruits and veggies.

There are lots of ways to preserve your fruits and veggies so don't waste all of your time, effort and money by not preserving. Click the link below to see all of the tips today!

Tips For Freezing, Pickling, Making Sauces And More With Your Summer Produce

(Picture Credit: thekitchn.com)