Turn A Blender Into A Bullet Blender With A Mason Jar

Categories: Cooking, DIY

Fancy a bullet blender like a Magic Bullet, but don't want to shell out $100 for one? Now you don't have to! If you have a standard cheap blender like the one in the video above, there is a good chance that the size and thread match that of a mason jar, and bang! You have a Magic Bullet style blender for nothing...

If by chance your blender doesn't take the standard mason jars, try some different jars, as there is a good chance you'll find something that fits. Watch the video above to see how it's done. If you do some Googling there are lots of tutorials showing how to do it with specific makes of blenders etc.
