Turn A Simple Carport Into An Awesome Barn

Categories: DIY, General, Homesteading

What an great idea! Purchase an off-the-shelf carport, assemble it, clad it with timber and add a door, and you have an awesome low cost barn...

What interests me about this the most though is not necessarily building as large barn as in the photo, but the opportunity to use a smaller carport to build a tool shed/work shop. The more I think of it, I am sure you could build a low cost cabin using this method, providing you insulated the ceiling and possibly the walls too. Anyway I thought I would feature this great project from 'Mulligan's Run', as it provides plenty of food for thought. Check out how the barn was made below.
