You'll Never Throw Coffee Grounds Away Again

Categories: Homesteading

If you are anything like us in the K.W.N household, you get through a huge amount of coffee each week. One of my best purchases ever was a grind and brew bean to cup coffee machine!

The thing is - like us until recently, you are probably just wasting the used coffee grounds, but this needs to stop. Used coffee grounds are incredibly useful for a range of things including pest control, compost (carrots love coffee!), soap and candle making. Check out the post below for 14 genuinely useful things to do with your used coffee grounds.
